

Exemptions

Part 4, Clause 20 of the Child Protection \(Working With Children\) Regulation 2013.

If you are in child-related work but you qualify for one of the following exemptions, you do not need to apply for a Working With Children Check:

- Administrative, clerical or maintenance work, or other ancillary work, that does not ordinarily involve contact with children for extended periods.
- A worker who works for a period of no more than five days in a calendar year, if the work involves minimal direct contact with children or is supervised when children are present.
- Informal domestic arrangements not carried out on a professional or commercial basis.
- Work with close relatives of the worker (not including work as an authorised carer foster carer or other authorised carer of children in statutory and supported out-of-home care).
- Volunteering by a parent or close relative:
 - of a child in activities for the child's school, early education service or other educational institution; except where the work is part of a formal mentoring program or involves intimate personal care of children with a disability
 - with a team, program or other activity in which the child usually participates or is a team member; except where the work is part of a formal mentoring program or involves personal care of children with a disability.
- A visiting speaker, adjudicator, performer, assessor or other similar visitor at a school or other place where child-related work is carried out if the work of the person at that place is for a one off occasion and is carried out in the presence of one or more other adults.
- A health practitioner in private practice, if the practice does not ordinarily involve treatment of children without one or more other adults present.
- A health practitioner who is working in and visiting NSW from outside the State, if the period of work does not exceed a total of five days in any period of three months.
- A co-worker or work supervisor where a child works.

- Work by an interstate visitor:
 - in a one-off event such as a jamboree, sporting or religious event or tour, if the event is the only child-related work carried out by the worker in NSW in that calendar year and the period of work does not exceed 30 days
 - who holds an interstate working with children check, or is exempt from the requirement to have such a check in his or her home jurisdiction, whose child related work in NSW is for no more than 30 days in any calendar year.
- NSW Police or Australian Federal Police officers in their capacity as police officers.
- Home carers accredited with a current police certificate for aged care, for home care work where the clients are not primarily children.
- People under the age of 18.

Part 2 of the Child Protection \(Working With Children\) Regulation 2013.

Some work is not considered to be child-related, which means it will not require a Working With Children Check. This work is set out in

Clause 6 (4) Work as a student on professional placement in the course of a student clinical placement in a hospital or other health service is not child-related work

Clause 7 (3) Work as a referee, umpire, linesperson or otherwise as a sporting official or a groundsperson is not child-related work, if the work does not ordinarily involve contact with children for extended periods without other adults being present

Clause 8 (2) Work in providing respite care or other support services primarily for children with a disability is child-related work; but it is not child-related work if the work does not ordinarily involve contact with children for extended periods without other adults being present.

Clause 11 (3) Providing food or equipment at or for a sporting, cultural or other entertainment venue or providing a venue is not child-related work

For more information, please refer to the fact sheets and resources page of the website www.newcheck.kids.nsw.gov.au. If you have a question, please email us at newcheck.kids.nsw.gov.au.

Disclaimer: The material provided in this Fact Sheet is an information source for the guidance of users only. Every effort has been made to ensure that the information is accurate, current and not misleading. However, this cannot always be guaranteed and no warranty is given that the information is free from error or omission. Users should exercise their own skill and care with respect to the use of the material. The information is also not a substitute for independent legal or other professional advice and users should obtain appropriate professional advice relevant to their particular circumstances. The Office of the Guardian does not guarantee, and accepts no legal liability whatsoever for any act done, omission made, loss, damage, cost or inconvenience arising from, connected to, or as a consequence of, using or relying on the material contained in this Fact Sheet